Like a ghost - is the curtain in the white light of the morning - Dancing in the morning
are you there - are you there?
And a shadow - like a sadness falling all across the garden Dancing in the garden
are you there, are you there?

Shine on, friend. Goodnight Why then then darkening of the light

And the leaves at my feet whisper sounds so familiar -
are you there? Are you there?

Where the clouds pull apart and the moon changes faces in the quiet secret places
are you there? Are you there?
