"Break On Through"

Visit "Break On Through" on MotoLyrics.com

You know the day destroys the night
The night destroys the day
So break on through, break on through
Break on through to the other side
Break on through to the other side

Yes I love to love
Yes I love to love
I'm gonna break on through, break on through
Break on through to the other side
Break on through to the other side

I find an island in your arms
A country in your eyes
So break on through, break on through
Break on through to the other side
Break on through to the other side

The day destroys the night
The night destroys the day
So break on through, break on through
Break on through to the other side
Break on through to the other side

So where are we going now?
