Just stay here all night with me, breathing off time,
This room won't feel the same.
My stomach is turning, this winter I'm burning.
I'm alive again and already I'm a mess.

Don't hold your breath. Come on scream my name.
Just one reaction, I'll take all the blame.
Just disagree or knock me out,
Prove that you're human show me all you've got...

I let you down!
I guess I'm sorry, for every homesick night that I spent...

Staying all night with you, breathing off time,
That I'll never get back.
If I could return to the day that I met you,
Just to stop myself and erase you from my life.

I'm a miserable bitter kid.
What I saw in you now just makes me sick.
Delay your life, put friends on hold,
Just see what happens when you come back home.

I let YOU down! ? Don't think I'm sorry.
All you've ever done is held me back.

I stayed up all night with you, breathing off time,
It's time I got some sleep.
This red cup is burning the past and I'm learning;
I'm alive again and I'm better off without you.

I'll stay here all night with her, breathing off time,
My room won't feel the same
My stomach is turning and life's getting boring,
I will never learn and forever be a mess.
