It's a quiet drive home
There's less and less to say
Pleasant nods and smiles are weighted
Behind us to the west
You see it in reverse
The sun is fire red and fading

It's all been done before
It's all been done before

We should have turned around
When we had the chance
When exiting was easy
Now we'll drive straight
Through no admission of mistakes

Heading back to Jersey City

It's all been done before
It's all been done before

I retain the words
I practiced in my head
The ones I knew would hurt
The ones I never said to you

It's all been done before
It's all been done before

It's a quiet drive home
There's less and less to say
Pleasant nods and smiles are weighted
