Heyawunaho energy flows where attention goes
For the gift of the present we owe it to the moment
Heyawunaho as above so let it be below
For the grace of the presence we owe it to the moment

No reason no rhyme
Not even to be grateful
No reason to be here at all The more I learn the less I know for sure I am reminded Each new belief is a limit itself to be transcended

No victim no crime
So how come they can still call me criminal
So many people doing time
It's easy to get cynical
When there just is not enough justice

Many signals many signs Appear in sure succession, leaving such impression
So many signals many cycles many constellations Signs of the times align in infinite progression

Take a slice out of life
Everybody's got to own their own little piece of it Well hell I've got mine And now its true I wonder could I really ever do without it?

Heyawunaho energy flows where attention goes
For the gift of the present we owe it to the moment
Heyawunaho as above so let it be below
For the grace of the presence we owe it to the moment

welcome to the moment this is it, this is all you get so, just receive the info and then flow but be prepared to hear 'no' surpression, oppression the pressure is on to live right but what's right?

not that democracy might prove to be a fallacy and dwindle away to the injustice present today

There will be those who try to deny and oppose you
There will be others still whose aim is but to use you Don't let them bring you down, don't let them disappoint thee
Their eyes shall never see the coming of the glory
Sunrise no surprise another spectral morning Open my eyes to find a brand new day is dawning Must be the season or the silence That gives my lovers whispered words the innocence of song birds
