Hide the key, 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, woah-woah
Don't forget how well I know you
Stop asking and keep dancing

You don't stand a chance, girl
You'll fall apart
Stop talking with your hands, girl
You'll have to start over, over again
Maybe, I'll call him up and call you out
Maybe, next time you should turn around
Over, over again

Put, put, put your heart where your mouth is
Put, put, put your heart where your mouth is now

Hide the key, 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, woah-oh
Do, do
Stop asking and keep dancing

You think that I am blind girl
My eyes were always floating in you wine girl
You'll have to start
Over, and over again
Maybe, I'm the one that plays the game
Maybe, I tend to make the same mistake
Over, and over again

Baby, you should put, put, put
Your heart where your mouth is
Put, put, put your heart where your mouth is now

Hide the key, 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, woah-oh
Don't forget how well I know you
I'll take, take, I'll take, take, you down
Do, do
Stop asking and keep dancing
Do, do
Stop asking and keep dancing

I'm talking bout change
You really want to see the way
But if you want to see
Then you need to settle down
And we're talking bout change
You really want to see the way
But if you want to see
Then you need to settle down, down, down

Hide the key, 'cause I'm coming over
To settle the score, woah-oh
Don't forget how well I know you
I'll take, take, I'll take, take, you down
Do, do
Stop asking and keep dancing
Do, do
Stop asking and keep dancing
