You took me to somewhere
That I would never go alone
You waited for me with something
Something I should never see
And no I know that I have become blind
And it's out of sight but never out of mind.

So give me back what you took
Give me back my second look
Won't you stop and do whats right
Won't you give me back tonight.

You made me weak like someone
Someone who has givin in
You pulled me down so low I
Wondered if I'd stand again
And now I know that I have become blind
And it's out of sight but never out of mind.

So give me back what you took
Give me back my second look
Won't you stop and do whats right
Won't you give me back tonight.

You took me down to somewhere
Somewhere I should never go
You waited for me like someone
Someone you should never be
And no I know that I have become blind
And its out of sight but never out of mind.

So give me back what you took
Give me back my second look
Won't you stop and do whats right
Won't you give me back tonight.

Tell me now am I too late
To turn around, just turn around
Won't you stop and do what's right
Won't you give me back tonight.
Give me back tonight.
