Lil Annoyance talking:
You're gonna miss my lovin
And you know it
But without further ado
Here's Shana with her new single You're gonna miss me

Shana:
It wasn't long ago before we had romance
We were the first to admit the true feelings we had about each other
All of my friends laughed and yours were hatin
I knew that they were jealous when you put that rock on my finger
Ever since then we been inseperable
You used to call me three or four times a day
But since I had our child things have been kind of rough
You don't do things for me as much as you used to do

Bridge:
It's kinda crazy that we started a family without getting married
And it's kinda shady that you don't care about the things that your child does anymore

Chorus:
You can't leave me here with the baby
And act like you don't care
Cause you that I know that you know that I know
Where you belong is with me and your child
You can't say you don't love me anymore
Because of the look in your eyes
You can say what you want you can do what you please
But you're gonna miss me

Shana:
See all my girls knew that you were hidin on the low
They did everything they could to help me out
You should've seen the look on your child's face
When she finally learned to roll over on her back

See you can call me out of my name and say you don't care
But you and I know that you will always care
And baby I'm not tellin you to admit anything
Because I know in your heart you'll regret everything

Bridge:

It's kinda crazy that we started a family without getting married
And it's kinda shady that you don't care about the things that your child does anymore

Chorus:

You can't leave me here with the baby
And act like you don't care
Cause you that I know that you know that I know
Where you belong is with me and your child
You can't say you don't love me anymore
Because of the look in your eyes
You can say what you want you can do what you please
But you're gonna miss me

Shana:

Now you really did hurt me but I will get over that Because with or without your help I can do this on my own
I can raise her all by myself
I won't need nobody else
But I know you wish you were here

Now let's try to talk this out
Eye to eye
And if you find it in your heart
We can compromise
It's not that difficult for you to become the man
That means I'm willing to give you a second chance

Chorus:

You can't leave me here with the baby
And act like you don't care
Cause you that I know that you know that I know
Where you belong is with me and your child
You can't say you don't love me anymore
Because of the look in your eyes
You can say what you want you can do what you please
But you're gonna miss me

Lil Annoyance:

Yeah
It's the Cherry Clique
Lil Annoyance, y'all

Shana
And Little Miss Jasmine
Peace easy to all the single mothers
And fuck you to all the fathers that left them
Holla
