leaving you

I was looking for the reason
The reason to love you
But there is no such a feeling
A feeling for you
I cant deny my insecurity
I'm confuse about me and you
I don't want to go on like this
I try to break free
There is nothing I expect from you anymore
You will never see the tears in my eyes
I walking this way on my own
I don't need you anymore
I will find another place to stay
Away from you
And now you crying in your room tonight
But there is no way back
