[Pumpkinhead] It started with Chick-o-Sticks and candy canes Illegal joysticks and videogames - you were my ace A tomboy female with a pretty face It's so ill, how we relate You taught me how to ice skate I know you wonder where I'm going with this rap With childhood flashbacks, memories we laughed at Let me explain slow so you know How it got deeper than the '85 blizzard snow - yo When you put out the extra sweaters and cocoa I know you thinking right now that I'm loco I see you giggling and feeling giddy But I gotta get it awhile the liquor's in me for real Stop joking, other seat, take my hand and understand I got a plan, and you included Look at me, willing to ?? and take a chance, and Listen to me; we can do it - yeah [Block McCloud] You probably gonna laugh But mama I've been thinking How long have we been friends now? It doesn't make it easy Lady, you complete me But it's starting to make sense now And maybe I've been drinking Well, you're my other half And you're my missing rib And I'm your Mr. Right And maybe it's the liquor talking Or maybe it just helped me To say what I've been felt, see Growing up in the next apartment Ever since we was kids And this'll be the night that - [Block McCloud] You can take me home (Together we can live in paradise) You can make me whole (I have no weakness with you by my side) You can take me home (Together we can live in paradise) You can make me whole (I have no weakness with you by my side) [Pumpkinhead] Now you telling me no, see what the whole world does? Damn - then I'm in trouble When we're out together, the looks and the whispers Of a nigga cute couple Our pride is there, and our glow is strong Even your moms think something's going on Even your pops be like "What the hell's going on?" I see something worth saving so I'm holding on And by no means do I intend to disrespect When I - hold your waist and smell your neck I gotta hit the men's room, excuse me, I'll be back in a sec And don't call for the check, I'm not done yet [Block McCloud] When we was playing ball and you banged your knee Who did you run to? You ran to me When you was hating all of your family Who did you run to? You ran to me When you was dating Paul And you caught him cheating on you with Amery You ran to me When you was crying, dying inside You ran to me so why can't you see that - [Block McCloud] You can take me home [Pumpkinhead] For me, hit VA alone before we talk off Then the late plane, a kiss at the airport When you peeked at me in the shower At the hotel jumpoff, I felt it then Don't front, you felt it too You my friend, what we gon' do You ran to me, now I'm running to you, cuz - [Block McCloud] You can take me home (Together we can live in paradise) You can make me whole (I have no weakness with you by my side) You can take me home (Together we can live in paradise) You can make me whole (I have no weakness with you by my side)
