4 AM

and she's crying on the phone again/

5 AM

and she's falling in love over again//

She changes moods like the clothes that she wears/

She keeps her eyes shut

so the world doesn't stare---

Can't sleep

Can't speak

cause the sun won't rise/

Stuck one words

and even the sky cries//

She changes moods like the clothes that she wears/

A little more time a lot more tear

Chorus

She's so young

She's so credulous

Why does she have to feel this away?

Fragile heart

and broken wings

I wish I could steal her pain away

It doesn't have to be like this...

4 AM and she's dreaming of unicorns

Something that will take her pain away//

She walks on water and she sends boats in the wake/

she smiles but inside it's fake---

4 AM and he's dreaming/

Not of her but something to ease the pain/

It's been forever but nothing ever changes

CHORUS

4 AM and I'm dreaming

Of something that will take his pain away.
