Razorlite, see a different life
You're running wild through the death of night
And from the days of your crisis
Are memories that you can not forget
But you've got so many reasons to get high, tonight

Foolish dreams, won't change anything
All you'll ever have is what the future brings
The blossom has gone, with every season
And you've got so many reasons to ask why, tonight

Is all you wanted, anything you need
The voices in your head all disagree

Razorlite, it's all black and white
You know that's it's up to you, if you live to die
But you've got so many reasons to get high, tonight

Close your eyes

Razorlite
Raise a light Razorlite, see a different life You're Running wild through the death of night And from the Days of your crisis Are memories that you can not Forget But you've got so many reasons to get high,
Tonight Foolish dreams, won't change anything All
You'll ever have is what the future brings The blossom
Has gone, with every season And you've got so many Reasons to ask why, tonight Is all you wanted, anything
You need The voices in your head all disagree
Razorlite, it's all black and white You know that's It's up to you, if you live to die But you've got so
Many reasons to get high, tonight Close your eyes
Razorlite
Raise a light
