"Foolish Heart"

Slowly on this wall
I can't move or else I fall Just as you push me I think of how blind I've been All my demons and all my angels couldn't stick me back together again

You sacked me
and say you'll do me no harm
then you kick me
while you bring me along for my rescue you sabotage me again all I've been through
now time to pick up all the pieces of my foolish heart

go back to the hole the one which you crawled out from defend yourself you better learn to all your demons and all your angels won't be able to stick you back together again

You better sleep with one eye open You better cash in all your tokens Time to scream what can't be spoken You better leave before something gets broken

You gotta leave them now no, no, no, no, no-oh
