Where is the love in this messed up world?
Corporations killing the innocent
A blanket covering the flowers
These racist pigs are ignorant
In this messed up world I still try to find my place

Where is the love in this messed up world?
Feeding off the verbal abuse
Treat me like a human being
The ones who've got no second chance
In this messed up world I still try to find my place

Well Mother there's still hope in this messed up world The ones with their heads screwed on straight Will rise up and make a stand Extinguish the racist scums In this messed up world I still try to find my place
