"Future Version"

Maybe a future version of me You'll love
I can't imagine being worthy of a love like this
I could be a better man, I swear to You
Come back and see me in a year or two
At the moment I'm trying to change into A future version You can embrace

"You I love
Regardless of the things you've said and done
No mistake can change My mind
Come, seek, and find
My love is yours right now"

Right now I'm seeing You and I cannot deny Amazing Grace but still I try and try and try
To gain a love like this
"You know the things that I am seeing
They must be true
Cause I have seen you in a year or two
And I can tell you now your sin remains
But I still love you with amazing grace"

I am loved
Regardless of the things I've said and done
No mistake can change Your mind
I'm your design
Your love is mine right now

It's less about the do's and don'ts and won'ts and can'ts
And all the things that make you feel like
My love is far away
It's more about the things I've done to overcome
In My life, and death, and resurrection
My love is yours today
Nothing can separate my love anyway

I am loved
Regardless of the things I've said and done
No mistake can change Your mind
I'm Your design

Your love is mine

I am loved

Regardless of the things I've said and done

No mistake can change Your mind

I'm Your design, God

Your love is mine right now
