Visit "In You" on MotoLyrics.com

I sing for joy and my remorse
A well within prosperity's curse
That drowns the mighty oak of pride
But feeds the root of God inside

In You I find my rest
In You I find my death
In You I find my all and my emptiness
Somehow it all makes sense

In You I'm rich when I've been made poor
Comfort found when I mourn
The prideful one, You see from afar
Drawing near to low broken hearts

In You I find my rest
In You I find my death
In You I find my all and my emptiness
But it all makes sense

In You I find my rest
In You I find my death
In You I find my all and my emptiness
But it all makes sense

In You I find my rest
In You I find my death
In You I find my all and my emptiness
Somehow it all makes sense in You
