"Peace Of Mind"

I will spend this day alone
There's an answer that I'm searching for about my life
I need more time to understand
What is happened to that smiling friend inside my own

I'm running to a place far from here
I'm running to a place far from all of you
To find my heaven

Will I ever find my way?
Will I ever understand
Why am I fighting for an escape
From this confused time

Probing into my own mind
I realize that it is full of thoughts to drive away
My life is simply in my hands
So let's start to live and stop to think, take back your smile

I'm running to a place far from here
I'm running to a place far from all of you
To find my heaven

Will I ever find my way?
Will I ever understand
Why am I fighting for an escape
From this confused time

Why am I crying again
It's not the easiest way to figure things out better
