There is not enough place for the both of us
There is not enough time and I'm growing up
So many lessons to give and take
So little will to admit defeat

As I enter the room
I'll meet my destiny soon
And I never meant to hurt you
But I can be so cruel

Please don't close this connection
Please don't kill my satisfaction
I love watching you suffer
And you know I can't stop this
Tonight

This is the moment that you realize
That you're strong and there is no need to hide
Facing your enemy through the screen
The most dramatic of all the scenes

As I am leaving the room
I know I'm not coming back soon
I don't really wanna hurt you
But maybe I just got cool

As I enter the room
I'll meet my destiny soon
As I am leaving the room
I know I'm not coming back soon
