You don't know the trouble you'll be in as soon as you've completely fallen for me
I'm like a spiderweb you can't escape a single touch
I'll get you wrapped up in me
And you're so close
You know I can detect the slightest sign of weakness
The more you guard your heart the more you're like a toy that I can't help but play with It's just too fun

Chorus:
Run away
While you can
Still stand
I'm gonna give you this chance
Right now
To turn around
I hope you figure out
That it's only gonna be a temporary thing
I don't mean a word I say
I just get off on the game

Innocence is bleeding from your lips
I can't resist
I wanna taste the sweetness
But once I get a little bit
I know I'll never quit
Until you're defeated
You're so naive
Don't make this so easy for me

Chorus

Listen to me now
I'm only looking out for your best interests
If you choose to play this losing game
You're playing at your own risk

Run away
While you can
Still stand
I'm gonna give you this chance

Right now
To turn around
I hope you figure out
That it's only gonna be a temporary thing
Don't believe a word I say
I just get off on the game
