I couldn't say what I meant
Would make no difference
You walked way

You look so hard for reasons and try to explain
The choices I make

There's no answer
I feel this way now
It's not your choice or mine
It's not something I can change
I'm getting to know
All the places I don't know
Places I can't and won't deny

Why can't you just see what I want?
Why can't you just stand by me?
It's what I want
Why can't you be someone to trust?
Why can't we just believe each other?

Try to realize
You're no more in charge
So don't come and try to rule my life

We will get no answers
For our differences now
So why can't you let me be?
