Well Brian and me well, We both agree that, You would take you two cents worth, That penny loafers are absurd, And stick them in your girly shoes, 'Cause I don't know why on earth, Why not at least use quarters, And Dave replied well after all, So then you can make a phone call, Assemble the B, just one left turn, it's finally time, time for our victory lap, The matchbox tires spin out on the welcome mat, And the firemen are tired men, who can't put out the rug burn, And they say, So that you can dream of destinations Cut your hair short, then walk through an airport, Cut your hair short, then walk through an airport, Cut your hair short, then walk through an airport, While all the while you're singing good vibrations, You're singing good vibrations You're singing, good, good, good, good, vibrations You're
singing, good, good, good, good, we both agree You're singing, good, good, good, good, mmm hmm hmm hmm
