One breath is all it takes
To feel the rush a little break from how You thought it'd be
I'm not the type to boast
I just need to make the most of this reality

If every little thing doesn't work out like you planned
Remember every little footstep doesn't have to land
And every Little dream that you have may not come true
But today we're starting new

This life is all we've got
So be good
Be good to yourself
Don't shy away

If every little thing doesn't work out like you planned
Remember every little footstep doesn't have to land
And every Little dream that you have may not come
true
But today we're starting new

I don't wanna live like this Regretting all the things I've missed
Finally the feet I've got
Are gonna dance

If every little thing doesn't work out like you planned
Remember every little footstep doesn't have to land
And every Little dream that you have may not come
true
