"Cake"

You know your love is eating me, a greedy bite every night

It's so hard to keep up with your ravenous appetite Too much is never enough for you, you just can't get your fill

Swallow me down, you think I taste so sweet, but I will be your bitter pill

You want to
Have your cake and eat it too
What do you expect me to do with you?
When all of it revolves around
You'll be sick of that cake before you're even through

Every night make a different scene, you spread yourself so thin
When your plate's so shallow is it any wonder you're hungry again?
You think you're so much but you're not enough, you're not enough to go around If you're the king of ego, then I'm ready to steal your crown

You want to
Have your cake and eat it too
What do you expect me to do with you?
When all of it revolves around
You'll be sick of that cake before you're even through

Come on and have some more cake
You really love your cake
I want to feed you some cake
You really love your cake
Come on and have some more cake
I want to feed you some cake
