So you think that you are a star
You sashay into a crowded club, everyone knows who you are
And they all say, "Oh, you look so fine
Let's go into a bathroom stall and do another line."

Closing time, the lights come on
You're coming down
Those friends you just made
They slip away
Go on home
Crawl into bed
When the sun goes down
It starts all over again

On the list and you're through the door
Your hand is stamped with a Hollywood kiss, yeah you've got the score
And there's no place you'd rather be than here
These few hours every night when it's all crystal clear

Soon enough the dawn arrives
You're coming down
Click your heels through empty streets
Walk home alone
Close the blinds
And sleep all day
Wait for the night when
It starts all over a...

Take a pill
It's much too real
In the day

Come on, do another line!
It'll make you feel so fine
So you do it every night
'Cause babe, you're outta sight!

Closing time, the lights come on
You're coming down

Those friends you just made
They slip away
Close the blinds
And sleep all day
Wait for the night when
It starts all over again
