You thing you know what you go
But never once you had a thought
To change the way and to clean your hands
You thing you know what you go
But never once you had a thought
I thought that you and could understand

The ego flies across the skies!
And you thing you have all the might
To bring everything to your side, you know you will fall
You lost in thought, behind your smiles

Oh!
Give my time out!

If you don't now by know yourself
You lost in thought and lost in your lies

Forget the past, just take my hand
If you don't now by know yourself
Forget the past, just take my hand
You lost in thought and lost in your lies

And you bring everything to your side
And you know you will fall...

Forget the past and close your eyes
And go to bed and sleep again
Try now to stand up and across the skies
And you bring everything to your side

Destroy this all!
Oh!

Forget the past and just take my hand
To change your way for this all
Your sense a madness and make problem on your head
The change the way, to clean your hands
To reach this on, lost in your lies
And why you do it for me?

Let's give them hell!

You lost in thought, lost in your lies

Oh!

And you losing in your lies
