

Shannon Thomas

"Rose Colored Shades"

Visit "Rose Colored Shades" on MotoLyrics.com

This is a mess and nothing less
With a second guess you'd pass the test
But you close your eyes, believe the disguise
Feast on her lies 'cause it feels nice
So this wake up call is knockin' at your door
Maybe you should not be with her anymore
I wish you knew that I am waiting for you

Chorus:

So don't pretend that she's giving in
To feelings she's never had and Don't even try to think that she's high on you
That she's got it so bad
I know what you're worth
She just found you first
Does that mean she should stay
You're gonna make your own heart break
Unless you take off those rose colored shades

I shouldn't judge, but it isn't love
I'm calling her bluff, but not giving up
I'm holding onto what I've got While you're gone and while she's not
So this wake up call is knockin' at your door
Maybe you should not be with her anymore
I wish you knew that I'm still waiting for you

Repeat Chorus

Admit to yourself that she cast a spell and when you fell she didn't
It's all a charade, let's face it, she made you think
She is what she isn't

So don't pretend (4x)

Repeat Chorus

