Can you see the line where the water ends??
Throws itself off into oblivion?
As the sky goes so complacent?
Then spits a little compassion?
Dusk approaches, city's carnivorous?
Moist with sweat, like it wants to eat us?
And devour everything but this mouth?
Who sings of the glorious thief
That's tucked deep inside the wraths of pride

And everywhere it seems like there's a memory?
Sometimes memories kill me?
As I travel the avenues and the streets?
And shadow valleys of this fuckin city?
Everyday it seemed to love a little less?
Seemed enough to chew on my calmness?
And drive me to the end of myself?
Where ravens dispose of me?

You're like a man without skin?
Everything that touches seems to hurt him?
And he says maybe I'm just a pussy
But I'll be for you if you let me

All I want is animals to be free?
Run around and fuck right out in the street?
Maybe they are gonna wanna eat me?
But I'll try not to take it personally?
And is there no love in this city??
Can someone have just a little pity??

You're like a man without skin?
Everything that touches seems to hurt him?
And he says maybe I'm just a pussy
But I'll be for you if you let me?

Just like a man without skin?
Everything he sees seems to touch him?
And he says, as the water washes over me?
I'll stand alone let God make it trade

Come on baby?
Penetrate me?
You go so deep?
So deep in me?
Is there no love?
In this city?
Can someone have just a little pity

Cuz we're tucked, deep inside the wraths of pride
We're tucked, deep inside the wraths of pride

You're like a man without skin?
Everything he sees seems to touch him
And he says maybe I'm just a pussy
But I'll be for you if you let me?

Just like a man without skin?
Everything he sees seems to touch him?
And he says that the one who watches over me?
I'll stand alone let God a trade...

To Penetrate me...
Penetrate me...
