Thrust your love through her wave
What was on the other side?
Of the flowing blue curtain?
You're most alive before you dive
If we cry underwater?
We can hide the suffering?
Then go rejoice in life's splendor?
Cause death awaits like an old friend?

So do you dance with the whirling wind??
Becoming the voice of the ring up in the air?
Do you dance with the whirling wind??
Becoming the voice of the ring, the earth its stratosphere?

I'm here to tell you something's lurking from another side?
For are you willing to see us in our true nature.
So where are you when all the fears of this world are shattered?
Well tonight it seems that maybe things will go unheard?

Now there's an, unheard presence?
it screams about our aliveness?
cause now the night is split and bleeds?
what did it take to be set free?
a bullet into faceless nights?
it seems there's no place to confide?
I think I see myself in you?
Somewhere below may hide the truth?

And we need to believe in something?
Cause everyone seems to be dying to be set free?
We need to believe in something?
Cause everyone seems to be dying to be set free?

I'm here to tell you something's lurking from another
side?
For I am writhing to see us in our true nature.
So where are you when all the fears of this world are shattered?

Well tonight it seems that maybe things will go unheard x2?

Unheard in her life, until they die.?

So unheard in her life, oh until they...until they die.
