When you were by my side
I would not be satisfied
I thought the grass was greener over the hill
You gave me your heart
But I held back a part saying "Maybe" when I should have said "I will"
Now I must admit that I could not commit I thought I'd always be your Mister Right
And when you said "Were through"
I said "There'll be somebody new"
and let you walk away without a fight (Leaving me)
Half the man and twice the fool I was
Had a master-plan believed I was the boss Now I'm at the hard knock school cause I broke the golden rule Now I'm half the man and twice the fool I was A man can spend his days in a melancholic haze of yesterdays and how-things-used-to-be

Hindsights never wrong
Now I know where I belong
Theres no woman in this world but you for me
Time and time again
there were warnings from my friends
They said "Youll lose her if you carry on this way"
But I was Mr Know-It-All riding for a fall
When you walked out the blues walked in to stay (Finding me)
Half the man
Look at this three time loser
Now that youre gone
I lost my heart, I lost your love
I lost the will to carry on Half the man ..
