"Forgetful"

forget my laugh
forget my voice
forget our chats
this was your choice
forget those days
forget the worst
i'll forget your ways
but this still hurts

so stare at the sky
and remember the time
everything was fine
you were all mine
and take a walk with the stars remember they used to be ours now they are as dead as flowers wilted away with time

maybe we can try again
start off slow, just as friends work back into what we had get back all we knew, so dont be sad time heals all, love shines though my heart does fall, when i'm without you

so stare at the sky
and remember the time
you were all mine
take a walk with the stars
they are all ours
they will shine like flowers for a lifetime
