What mattered to me,

Was the right to be free,

Like I'll be someday,

I'm waiting for my heart to lead the way.

The places I've seen,

And the roads in between,

Make me wonder why,

I'm searching for my dreams up in the sky.

I heard the call,

And in the mirror,

I saw the writing on the wall.

And I had to fall,

In love with you.

The face that I've known,

Seems so lost and alone,

When you're far away,

I'm comin' for you baby right away.

The places I've seen,

And the roads in between,

Make me wonder why,

I'm searching for my dreams up in the sky.

I heard the call,

And in the mirror,

I saw the writing on the wall.

And I had to fall,

In love with you.

What mattered to me,

Was the right to be free,

Like I'll be someday,

I'm waiting for my heart to lead the way.
