I have looked everywhere I've seen nobody who will again be a lover of me always, I have searched everywhere but I found nobody who will again be in love with me cos I'm alone, You don't know how much I've tried to see if I can let you know
It all because I was drunk the day I let you go, Look at me now searching up and down for you.

My beibe I am sorry,
I've gone right round the world searching for you Cos I've realised you were made to be the mother of
my children,
Come back to me,
I love you.

I know the sad remains in your heart,
But you must find a way to clean it up and let me in again
Cos the day we had this little misunderstanding
Only God knows I was so drunk that very night, Now I'm promising you to never drink nor smoke anymore,
I promise I'm gonna live a life that will please you all the days long,
And over my dead body will I make you to cry again,
Now the love is coming from the bottom of my heart just for you.

My beibe I am sorry,
I've gone right round the world searching for you
my children,
Come back to me,
I love you.

Tell me what it gonna take me to have you again,
Tell me what it gonna cost me to make you my bride, Baby anything you mention I'll do it for you Cos I cannot be without you girl, Yea... Yea...!
