Gave me a fair warning
Said be gone by morning
If you saw me go
Would you ask me to stay?
Silhouettes in dim light
I'm a moon at midnight
Waiting for the dawn to
Send me away

And this is the rift
The schism
The shift
Where everything comes apart

I already know what you've been thinking
I already know the reason why
I already know but I'm still sinking
Beneath the sheets of my lie
Give me just another night
Give me just another night

Gentle as an arrow
Meaningless and narrow
And the whole night through
You're forgetting my name

And this is the rift
The schism
The shift
Where everything comes apart

I already know what you've been thinking
I already know the reason why
I already know but I'm still sinking
Beneath the sheets of my lie
Give me just another night
Give me just another night

This is the rift
The schism
The shift

Where everything comes apart
This is the end
The moving ahead
And no one knows how to start

This is the rift
(This is the rift)
The schism
The shift
(The schism, the shift)
Where everything comes apart
(Everything comes apart)

This is the end
(I never wanted)
The moving ahead
(To be the one)
And no one knows how to start
(Tip toe away
When it is done...)

This is the rift
(I never wanted)
The schism
The shift
(To be the one)
Where everything comes apart
(Tip toe away
When it is done...)

This is the end
(I never wanted)
The moving ahead
(To be the one)
And no one knows how to start
(Tip toe away
When it is done...)

I already know what you've been thinking
I already know the reason why
I already know but I'm still sinking
Beneath the sheets of my lie
Give me just another night
Give me just another night
