Something's missing, something's wrong

Something's not right where it belongs

Why am I doubting what I thought I knew

What's come over you

Where's the laughter where's that touch

That made me feel you were in love

I pray it's just a phase you're going through

What's come over you

I can roll with the tide, come in from the rain

Turn my back to the wind, stand my share of pain

But if you don't love me there's nothing I can do

What's come over you

All these memories of all those times

Make it so hard to say goodbye

To all those dreams we shared that won't come true

What's come over you

I can roll with the tide, come in from the rain

Turn my back to the wind, stand my share of pain

But if you don't love me there's nothing I can do

What's come over you
