So I lost the girl, that I loved the most
And I didn't know, until I cut the ropes
Everytime he calls, she cuts his line
Without a face, and an open mind
It's Another check in the box of this do not call list
His pen is drying, his friends are gone
He said "I love you" just a little late
She's moved on now and doing great

Four in the making, and two in the past
These years that I have spent, tryin to last
All she ever wanted was a smile or a grin
And to be loved, respected, held up high,
Locked up lips and a slap on the thigh
I probably wont make it up this time
Because it's all on me and this is why

Sorry babe I lost my mind
I don't expect forgiveness but give it time
If your happy now than I'm alright
There's no other girl in mind

No one went just the way you went
Useless time and money spent
I need change and I need you
Your not coming back
After what I put you through

Sorry babe I lost my mind
I don't expect forgiveness but give it time
If your happy now than I'm alright
I need another chance to shine
