How I always memorize every single misery and I seem to glorify everything inside of me and the hero never dies if the lover hides
between the sheets
there's no escape
cause you can't sleep and then you'll see you're just like me...
That's what you called waste of time I'll be waiting down the line
waiting for your valentine
that's what you called waste of time I know where your hero hides that's why you don't sleep tonight that's what I call life with a hero in the past you hang on to history such a loss will always last and there's no recovery
