The tattoos across your chest they colour your skin you were blessed like the rest but cursed from the beginning they're red, white and blue like the national flag and they have a hold on you from birth to body bag like on all of us in this brave, new world

Dead man walking
but you know that you're alive
dead man walking
but you know the soul survives
dead men walking
with star-spangled eyes

time to take that dive
time to take that drive

the house that you lived in is up for sale
it's a must-sell situation without avail
you were taught to hold your head up to hold it up high while you live in the gutter to hold on to the sky like all of us in this brave, new world people saying
