"Let Go"

Visit "Let Go" on MotoLyrics.com

I could spend a million years
Waiting on the day someone will
Step in and take all the blame
For the choices that I made and pay the bill

I heard the news
Fell to the ground
You reap what you sow

I let go what became of me
I let go of everything I wanted to be
I let go and take a look around
Now I've found a place called now

I could spend a million years
With fear of what may come and shoes to fill
Hide away for future harm
Live safe without sound, without a thrill

I heard the news
Fell to the ground
You reap what you sow

I let go what became of me
I let go of everything I wanted to be
I let go and took a look around
Now I've found a place called now

I let go what became of me
I let go of everything you want me to be
