"Morning Rain"

Yellow cab in an empty street
Engine running I won't make a scene
Payed him off, he called my bluff
I'm running late

Avoided my glances over coffee and cream
Prettiest eyes I have ever seen

It's not too late
Get things right
He won't change
Get out alive

Now you feel like you're losing
You feel like there's no way out
Does it hurt you down at rock bottom?
He won't take the blame
When you walk away

Into the morning rain

Pick up the check for this love supreme
Follow the road to this dead end dream

It's not too late
Get things right
He won't change
Get out alive

Now you feel like you're losing
You feel like there's no way out
Does it hurt you down at rock bottom?
He won't take the blame
When you walk away

Into the morning rain

Spot the trails of headlights
Don't waste your youth on age
Illuminating a black night
You have to turn this page

In the silence of tomorrow
You could hardly get away
So get out now
We'll face the day
