the moment that i saw your hazel eyes i knew that I had met you a hundred times before this life i could feel in the blink of a second our hearts should be fine do you realise?

love got me on this rooftop screaming for love got me on the sign (?) of a broken heart i will love you like i said one life to the next

we go one life to the next flashback to a long forgotten time and scene its not when you're awake or falling asleep it in between whispers in the past trying to manifest in here trying to make you look back from all the things that we shared (?)

sincere

do you realise?

got me on the sign of a broken heart
to the next

got me on the sign of a broken heart

got me on the sign of the broken heart
i will love you like i said

we go one life, to the next x3
