All I need is one song one line
all I need is one break to survive
All I get is one chance, so come on Five more hours to come up with a song

the pressure is rising, no more mistakes don't try to deny it, don't you hesitate those voices are calling, calling out your name
but don't look so sad, it's a long way back

Don't try to chance it
A long way back, and a long way ahead

All I need is one song one line
all I need is one break to survive
All I get is one chance, so come on Five more hours to come up with a song

those voices are calling, calling out your name
but don't look so sad, it's a long way back

Don't try to chance it
A long way back, and a long way ahead

All I need is one song one line
all I need is one break to survive
All I get is one chance, so come on
Five more hours to come up with a song

All I need is one song one line
all I need is one break to survive
All I get is one chance, so come on Five more hours to come up with a song

to come up with a song

All I need is one song one line
all I need is one break to survive
All I get is one chance, so come on Five more hours to come up with a song
