In the silence of the night
We will start a better life
Try to see what lies beyond
Try to keep an open mind

And who, who is to say
That we won't keep the promises we made
Now, we choose to say
That even few can bring a wind of change

Before our heart gets cold
Let us open up the doors
And she'd the lights of our home in the dark
Hmm... in the dark

Far away from all we know
Where nobody wants to go
All the pain we have ignored
From now on we will no more

And who, who is to say
That we won't keep the promise that we made
Now, who is to say
We are to few to bring the wind of change

Let's she'd the lights of our home...
Let's she'd the love of our home...

Before our heart gets cold
Let us open up the doors
And she'd the lights of our home in the dark
Hmm... in the dark

Before our heart gets cold
Let us open up the doors
And spread the love that we have in the dark
Hmm... in the dark
