One last time just to see you
One Last time maybe hold you in my arms
To feel the warmth and tender moments
That we shared
One last time
One last chance to see your face
God, I'm never good at this
Goodbyes are always hard to say
But then there is no other way
For you and I can never be
And we both know it
But how can I just throw away
The things we had
Wish I could say the what we had never existed
But I knew it from the very start
Though I thought it might work out
Guess a cycle never really fails
When you fall in love
You'd end up with a broken heart
One last time just to see you
One more time thought it got so bad inside
I have to find the guts to say goodbye
One last kiss as if a kiss could ease the pain
You know I'll love you for always
And in my heart you will remain
But it's time to go our separate ways
For you and I can never be
And we both know it
But how can I just throw away the things we had
Wish I could say that what we had never existed
But I knew it from the very start
Though I thought somehow it might work out
Guess a cycle never fails
When you fall in love
You'd end up with a broken heart
One last time though it got so bad inside
I have to find the guts to say goodbye
One last time you know I'll love you for always
But I have to say goodbye
To say goodbye
