There it goes again
That same sad song
There it goes again
That familiar haunting melody
It reminds me of the past
When the two of us declared
Our love would last
Now there it goes again
That same sad song

There it goes again
This pain in my heart
It hurts me everytime
They play that haunting melody
It reminds me of the night we cried
The song was playing
As we said goodbye
Now there it goes again
That same sad song

Baby, could we start over and love as before
And could we be lovers and love even more
Or could we pretend that our love would never end (x2)
Just pretend, just pretend.
