"Everlasting Fire"

With the winds of fire, it began to storm
Beyond the black horizons, beyond all fears
In the light of the full moon, above the sky
With a blaze of thorns, the fallen angel rises

Flames of fury
Surges of hatred
Death to all
Disciples of god

Lord of darkness
Ruler of chaos
Shroud this earth
Into Armageddon, apocalypse

Death to peace
War at least
Coldness and pain
Die in eternal flames

With a reign of blood, the night begun
Beyond all shadows, beyond all pain
In the light of the fallen, damnation is calling
In eternal silence, in everlasting fire
