You lay like flowers in my bed
Like scented flowers in my bed
God's most inspired work of art
Bestowed upon me in my bed

You lay like flowers in my bed
You lay like flowers in my bed

There is so much of me in you
Your thin veil's easy to see through
No one's as close to me as you
When you let go i feel it too
And when you've reached your crowning point
Your eyelids open up so slow
Like subtle petals of a rose
That's slowly starting to unfold

You lay like flowers in my bed
You lay like flowers in my bed

Woman
The most beautiful in the world, next to a flower
I gaze at you for hours
Still so much more to see
It is my destiny to be with you, walk with you, live with you, die with you
I share myself with you as you share yourself with me
For me there is only you
Woman, there's only you

You lay like flowers in my bed
(repeat)
