"For Your Eyes Only"

Can you hear my heart tonight?
Beating at the speed of light, for you You're the one who knows my name all has changed but I'm the same I'm the same

I'm never really fittin' in I never know where to begin never I started first, but finished last and all along I've worn this mask I've worn this mask

And for your eyes only, I found my place
and for your eyes only, I show my face and for your eyes only I can be myself for a while
With you I feel alive

Here today, tomorrow gone
No one stays around for long, out here I need someone to hang on to Someone perfect such as you such as you

And for your eyes only, I found my place
and for your eyes only, I show my face
and for your eyes only I can be myself for a while
With you I feel alive
with you I feel alive

And for your eyes only, I found my place
and for your eyes only, I show my face
and for your eyes only I can be myself for a while
With you I feel alive
with you I feel alive
with you I feel alive
with you I feel alive
