There's nothin left to say
You turn your ship around You take it day by day until you reach solid ground

and now that you know
that forever, is not forever
that tomorrow, might be the end you're scared of what the future holds it's part of our desire and you can take the safest road but life will pass you by

it's gonna take time to heal your soul
but it can't be fixed if you don't let it go and you're the only one that can change your life you are what you think you are you can make it good you can make it high you get out what you put in every endless beginnings

now that you know
