In the town that I was born in
There rides a boy and a girl in love
And the answer came without warning
Just like an angel from heaven above

They run down Moreland into the neon night
They left the others far behind
But they can make believe, even if it's for just one night
And if it's only in their minds

When they run, when they run, they run in the look Love is familiar, It warms just like a summer rain
One moment falls into forever We got the power to melt away the pain

When we run down Moreland into the neon night
We left the others far behind
But we can make believe, even if it's for just one
night

And it's only in our minds when we run We loose our way
We run so hard, why don't we stay and I don't know where we will go
To find our way

We run down Moreland into the neon night
We left the others far behind
The land of make believe seems to be in everybodys sights
But it's only in their minds
So they run, so they run, so they run
