Four years later and where are you
Changed your mind when I changed to Pick a side and stick with it now
Cause tonight this ship is going down

I see the ocean pulling at your feet
The strength of the crowd is something that is hard to beat
Now I'm invisible and you'll show it too
Not a word in your story's even close to true

This life
Is fact or fiction baby
In time
The ocean tides will break me
Swept up in
A tidal wave of mute deception
And in the end we'll all brave this

And I see the waves that your crash
Pulling me down
But this time I'll suffice
You'll never know
What it's like to hold me under
The walls around you start to crumble and you will never know

(This day is ours
These words are mine
Comes with me now
This is our time)

I can see the waves are crashing
Straight down the ground is moving
Now I'm invisible like you
And in the end you'll show it too

Thanks to jj.
